Narrow Fluctuations at Chicago, with Trading Almost Purely Local.

Trying to Figure Out the World's Supply of Wheat-Corn Sells Off from Two to Three Points-Prices of Hog Products.

MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS. Dull and Sluggish Market Relieved by a Live ly Brush in Phoenix Mining Stock. NEW YORK, Sept. 14.-Money on call was easy at 3 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@6 per cent. Sterling exchange was quiet but steady at $4.8412 for sixty-day bills and $4.8814 for

The total sales of stocks to-day were 75,-506 shares, including the following: Atchison,2,775; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 1,600; Erie, 2,000; Louisville & Nashville, 9,360; Missouri Pacific, 2,260; Northwestern, 2,115; Northern Pacific, 2,105; Northern Pacific preferred, 5,200; Reading, 9,100; St. Paul, 9,100; Union Pacific, 3,100, The stock market to-day was dull, and the general list entirely uninteresting, the fluctuations in none of the list extending over a range of 1 per cent., while the heavy tone which prevailed from the opening almost to the close was more the result of professional selling than anything else. The sudden announcement of the new cut on rates by the Chicago, Burlington & Northern, together with the general expectation of an unfavorable bank statement to-day, led to a marked indisposition to trade, especially upon the long side, and while there was no pressure of stocks for sale outside of the short offerings of the traders, there was no demand, and of the traders, there was no demand, and the market naturally became limited and heavy, as usual under such circumstances.

The opening prices generally showed de-clines of from 18 to 38 per cent. from last night's figures, and the subsequent deal-ings in the regular list developed no feature whatever beyond the moderate degree of animation in Louisville & Nashville, Reading and St. Paul. Reading, however, reached its lowest price for the week. In the unlisted department the manipulation in Phoenix mining was continued, and the price was run up by rapid stages from 45 to 75, whence it reacted to 60 and closed at 65. The close showed a little better tone, the decrease in the surplus reserve being no larger than expected, and while duliness was the principal feature, the market was steady to firm.

Railroad bonds were quiet and without special feature, and while a general firm tone existed there was considerable irregularity in the final changes. The sales reached $421,000. Sales of bonds for the week, $7,372,000, against $,5062,000 last

Government bonds were dull and steady. State bonds were neglected. Closing

TRADING AT CHICAGO. The Ups and Downs of the Market, with the CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The wheat market was strong and weak by turns to-day. Fluctuations in prices were not violent, and excitement did not run as high as on some of the earlier days. The only cause for complaint was the lack of outside orders. Barring a little buying again to-day for account of New York, the business passing was almost entirely local. Three or four Chicago houses took between them fully a million bushels of December, when the price was around 7914c. Most of the news was again favorable for holders. A Minneapolis dispatch said an unusual number of cable orders for flour had been received, and the foreign flour situation had improved. The French government is said to have figured out an increase of 39,000,000 bushels of wheat in the crop this year as compared with that reported in 1888. The strongest local feature settled down on a yield for this country of 480,000,000 bushels, which is the stock showing. Bradstreet's London correspondent says the weather was bad for the greater part of a month during harvest, and that probably 68,000,000 bushels will be all that will be marketed, while 140,000,000 bushels will be required. The close here for Decembe required. The close here for December and May was lee above yesterday's latest bids, with September.

October and year lead to lower. Corn ruled active and weak. Trading was heavy and fluctuations within laws see range. The weakness was due almost entirely to the fine weather for the growing crop. The market opened at yesterday's closing prices, was easy for a time, rallied to on purchase by shorts and a large local trade, but again became weak, selling off 1205sc, ruled irregular and closed 1403sc lower ruled irregular and closed 423sc lower than yesterday. Oats are quiet and easy, due to receipts exceeding estimates, and also to the weakness and decline in corn. The mess pork market attracted very little attention, trading almost exclusively in contracts for January. The feeling was steadier and prices rather favored sellers. Very little business transacted in the lard market. Market steady. Trading in short ribs was comparatively light and the feeling was steadier. Prices averaged a trifle higher early, but receded again and the market closed rather quiet. The leading futures ranged as follows:

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. A Week in Which Trade Was Moderately Active, the Weather Conditions Interferring. INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 14.

Trade in the week closing to-day did not reach as large proportions as in the first week in the month. This is due, doubtless. to the unusually warm weather which has been experienced the past week, yet the dry goods men and boot and shoe dealers. in making comparisons with the corresponding week, 1888, find but little room for complaint. On most lines of dry goods firm prices prevail. Grocers had a fair week's business. The only fluctuation in values of importance was the advance of 12 cent in coffees. Both coffees and sugars continue strong in tone, and are moving out fairly well. In the produce markets the sales were numerous, but small orders, everybody seemingly buying to meet only immediate requirements. Fruits and vegetables decay so fast that the grocers are not anxious to carry any large quantity over from one day to another, no matter over from one day to another, no matter how cheap it may be offered. The supply of peaches and pears through the week was very limited and prices have ruled decidedly firmer, and on choice fruit considerably higher prices were realized. Eggs are still scarce and candled stock readily brings our quotations. Butter, if choice, is meeting with some better sale. Shippers are paying 7@712c per pound for hens and chickens, paying the highest figure only when they are obliged to, to secure the poultry—one house, running two sets of quotations, one quoting at 7c per pound and the other 712c. The hide per pound and the other 712c. The hide market is more active, but nothing encouraging can be said as to an advance in prices. They are quoted so low now that whenever there is a change it will be for the better. Provisions drag a little, as usual in September, prices ranging as for several days past. In a jobbing way less is doing than at any time for some months. The dry weather has checked trade somewhat with the seed men, still they report business as being fairly active. Lemons are very scarce and higher than for many years in this market. In oranges but little is doing. The market is overstocked with celery, the demand being light this warm weather. Other markets are featureless. GRAIN.

The Indianapolis Market Report shows the receipts of wheat to-day to have been 7,200 bushels. The market is quiet, although No. 2 red sells readily. Lower grades are slower sale.

We quote: No. 2 red, 75\(\pi\)75\(\frac{1}{2}\)c; No. 3 red, 69\(\pi\)71c; rejected, 64c for poor, up to 69\(\pi\)70c for choice samples, the ruling figures being 66\(\pi\) 67c; September, 75c; October, 75\(\frac{1}{2}\)c.

Corn—Receipts posted to-day, 1,800 bushels; yesterday, 3,600 bushels. The offerings are falling off, as is also the local stock. The demand, although small, is improving, and market is quoted strong at quotations.

We quote: No. 1 white, 35c; No. 2 white, 34\(\frac{1}{2}\)c; No. 3 white, 33\(\pi\)33\(\frac{1}{2}\)c, according to condition and color; No. 2 yellow, 31\(\frac{1}{2}\)33c; No. 2 mixed, 32\(\frac{1}{2}\)33c; No. 3 mixed, 32\(\pi\)32\(\frac{1}{2}\)c; ear, 32\(\pi\)34c.

Oats-Receipts posted to-day, 5,000 bushels; yesterday, 2,000 bushels. The offerings are very light, while the demand is strong at quota-We quote: No. 2 white, 22½@23½c; No. 3 white, 21@21½c; No. 2 mixed, 20c; rejected mixed, 17@19c; unmerchantable, 14@15c.

Bran—The market is easy. Shippers are bidding $7.75@8 per ton for spot. Local dealers are paying $8.25@8.50.

Hay and Straw—Receipts posted to-day 3 cars; yesterday, none. Shippind demand small. The local demand is good for No. 1, owing to the small stock; No. 2 is slow sale. The quotations are for spot:

are for spot:
Timothy hay, choice. $11.50 per ton; No. 1, $11@11.50, the latter figure for old; No. 2, $9; prairie, No. 1, $7@7.50. Straw, $5 per ton.

Can't Cultivate Cabbage Too Much. Miller Purvis, in Orange Judd Farmer.

Standing with a friend the other day looking at a splendid growth of cabbages, he remarked: "I'm through with that cabbage for this year, and I am in hopes of better luck than I usually have." On inquiry I found he had never been successful well, though in the early part of the season they grew all right. I believe, however, that his remark furnished the key to the difficulty. He does not work his cabbage late enough in the season. I have always had excellent success with cabbages since I learned that it is impossible to cultivate them too much. I never grow more than from 300 to 500 heads, and these I cultivate as often as I find spare tune. If I have a little time I can take my "Daisy" wheel plow and go through the patch, and if this is done three times a week until the middle of September, a good crop is almost sure to result. I do not care if it breaks off a few of the outside leaves; it does not kurt the plants outside leaves; it does not kurt the plants any, and in some parts of the country these leaves are removed as a part of the cultivation. One is not apt to put cabbage on too highly fertilized land, for there is no grosser feeder. A market gardener on Long island told me he frequently put seventy-five cart-loads of stable manure on an acre of cabbages. If the land lacks in fertility it is not too late yet in some sections to remedy the defect, and a coat of well-rotted manure spread over the ground well-rotted manure spread over the ground and worked in will be of immense value to the crop. For this purpose I know of noth-ing better than hog manure; in fact, the cleanings from the hog pen will show on any crop. Too often this part of the farm fertilizers is allowed to lie and rot in the economy in their business when they adapt their farm implements to the capacity of heavier teams. They seem to forget or fail to consider that the value of the team is in exact proportion to its weight, if the large team is equally well proportioned with the lighter, for plowing, harrowing, reaping, mowing and all heavy hauling, if they only adapt their implements to the greater weight of their teams. If the team weighs 1,600 pounds per horse, the plow may cut eighteen inches and the harrow twenty feet, the mower and reaper in proportion; as well as for the 1,000-pound horses to use the twelve-inch plow and other tools in proportion, a heavy team may as well plow four acres as a light one two and one-half. A good draft horse can be raised to 1,000 pounds as quickly and as cheaply as a grade steer of the same weight, and will sell on the market for two and one-half times the price, and as promptly; will pay his own way from two years old on the farm. It is now too late in our experience to say that such horses are not salable at any time, for cash. There is none left in any community where they have been of. any time, for cash. There is none left in any community where they have been offered for sale. No market in America has ever been supplied with them; 1,500 pounds sound horses, of any breed, will bring $200 in any State in this country at this time. The demand for them will increase in proportion to the increase of railroads and general commerce forever.

Farm Horses. Western Agriculturist.

Farmers can use draft horses with greater

DAILY, SUNDAY AND WEEKLY.

The Most Complete Newspaper in all Departments in the State of Indiana.

No newspaper in the West is more widely or more favorably known than the Indianapolis Journal. By the display of enterprise and strict attention to the wants of the reading public, during the great campaign of 1888, it has taken a leading position among the most prominent journals of the country, and is certainly among the best. Among the newspapers of the State it is pre-eminently the best, and Indiana readers can nowhere else find what they want in the way of State and local news. It circulates largely in every county in Indiana, and has correspondents in every town and village of importance. Its market reports are prepared with the greatest care possible, and no pains or expense are spared to make them accurate and absolutely reliable. It is the only newspaper in the State owning and publishing all the news furnished by the two great press associations (the Western Associated Press and the United Press). in addition to which it furnishes an abundance of special service from all the principal cities of the country. It has been, and will in future be, the aim of the publishers to make the Indianap-OLIS JOURNAL a perfect and complete newspaper, deficient in no department or particular. The paper challenges comparison with any of its contempo-

No Indiana reader, certainly no Indiana Republican, should be without the Journal. While it is thoroughly and soundly Republican in politics, devoted to the interests of the Republican party, the Journal will not allow its news to be colored by partisan bias, but will give the news of the day without fear or

Owing to the prominence of Indiana in the national administration, the Jour-NAL gives particular attention to Washington news, which will be given far more completely than ever before. For this reason, if for no other, no Indiana reader can afford to be without it for the next four years.

In addition to its new features, the JOURNAL regales its readers with the productions of some of the best known llterary men and women of the day. Many of the most celebrated magazine writers and authors are contributors to its literary columns, making it apaper for the household and home circle. Special arrangements have been made for features of this character, which will appear in the Journal during the coming year. These appear most largely in the SUNDAY JOURNAL, which is a special edition, and can be subscribed for and received exclusive of the JOURNAL.
